I would like to thank the individuals that gathered their family information for this genealogy, and also my family for their patience with me while I sat at the computer, or walked the cemetery's.

The information in this genealogy is only as correct as the records that the information was gathered from. The information was gathered from census records, Birth records, Death records, Cemetery records, The 1914 History of Dekalb County, Ind., History of Dekalb County 1837-1987, History of Northeast Indiana, The 1885 History of Dekalb County, Ind., Marriage records, The Eckert Public Library in Auburn, Dekalb County, Indiana has various other records that were used. Family members, The Internet, and I walked a lot of cemetery's, Sometimes the headstones records were different from that, that was recorded at the Library, depending on which recorded was used I tried to determine the correct information.

If you should find information that is incorrect please let me know so that I may correct it. My address is Judy A. Frehse 4295 S 895 E, Wolcottville, Ind. 46794 or my E-mail is judyf@kuntrynet.com

This genealogy is no way near complete so if something needs added please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely A distant family member

Judy Ann (Harmes) Frehse

1. Simon Rohm was born September 27, 1785 in Rhineburg, Rontz Witer, Germany, and died April 03, 1857 in Dekalb Co., Ind.. He married MARY ANN MILLER in Germany. She was born January 15, 1800 in Germany, and died September 25, 1855 in Dekalb Co., Ind..

Notes for SIMON ROHM:

Simon Rohm Sr. was a soldier for nine years in the Napoleonic wars, and was married in the old country to Mary Ann Miller. He was considered well-to-do in his native land, owning fifteen acres of land and two cows, but he sold all he had and brought his wife and children, Frederick, Elizabeth, Simon Jr., Valentine and Caroline, to America upon other children having died in Germany. Although considered well-to-do, he spent all he had in making the trip to America and was five dollars in debt on his arrival here. In 1833 the family located in Holmes county, Ohio, where were born other children, William G., Henry C., Joseph L. and Christian. In 1845 the family moved to western Indiana, where Simon had leased land for nine years. Simon Jr. being the largest and most robust son at home, and his father being too old to farm alone, refused to stay and farm the place because of the worthless character of the soil, consequently they packed up their effects and came to Dekalb County, Indiana, locating on a farm two and one-half miles southwest of Waterloo, known as the Joseph Stahl Place. This information can be found in the Dekalb County, History pages 907 and 908.
